

RUSSIANS NOW HAVE ADVANTAGE

Combined Squadron 25 Per Cent Stronger Than Togo.

ADMIRALTY IS JUBILANT

JAPANESE EXPECTED TO DECLINE OPEN BATTLE.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—Much satisfaction was expressed at the admiralty at the uniting of the divisions of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, expecting that the Russian admiral now enjoys a superiority over his adversary of 25 per cent of the ships of the line.

The impression here is that it will require a week for Negoboff to get everything ship-shape for the final stage of the journey to Vladivostok. Admiral Togo is expected to decline an open battle.

REQUESTED TO MOVE ON.

One of Rojestvensky's Cruisers Called at Saigon.

Saigon, Cochinchina, May 10.—The Russian cruiser Jemchug and the Russian auxiliary cruiser Elion, belonging to Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, arrived off Cape St. James, near here, during the night of May 8, and left yesterday morning at the request of the governor of French Indo-China.

These cruisers brought instructions to Rear Admiral Negoboff, anchored here or four days ago. A heavy sea was running, exposing a good deal of the warships' hulls which were quite free from barnacles or seaweed. The ships appeared to have unusually large crews and the men all seemed in good health.

The main Russian squadron is said to be well provisioned, but are short of tobacco and cigars.

It is considered likely here that Negoboff's division has already passed the cape.

The hospital ship Kozlovskaya, whose arrival here was announced May 8, sails May 12.

MAY BOYCOTT FRANCE.

Japanese Chamber of Commerce Likely to Take Action.

Tokio, May 10.—The government maintains reserve, but the Indo-Chinese situation seems to be rapidly approaching a crisis. Following the repeated assurances of the French foreign minister, M. Delcasse, to Dr. Monoteone, the Japanese minister at Paris, that the vessels of the Russian Pacific squadron were outside territorial waters, the navy department here has received reliable information that a portion of the squadron was inside Hongkong bay a short distance north of Kowloon, the morning of May 6, and it was generally believed that the French (Negoboff) division of the squadron will use French waters to coal and take on other supplies and clean their bottoms. It is difficult to predict future events.

The Japanese government has been urged to accept France's assurance that the Russian warships have remained outside territorial waters and to act accordingly.

The agitation against France commercially is growing and, despite governmental representation, a motion to boycott French goods is being reached in the chamber of commerce.

CLAIMS MADE BY JAPAN.

Sins of Omission and Commission Charged to France.

Paris, May 10, 6:05 p. m.—In the course of an apparently authoritative statement on the Japanese case against France, a summary is given of various acts of assistance rendered the vessels of the Russian Pacific squadron at Cherbourg, Dakar, Algiers, Jibuti, Magenta, Kanton, Port Dayot and Hongkong bay.

The conclusions of the Japanese government are stated to be as follows:

"First, without questioning the good faith of France, Japan holds that French orders to observe neutrality have been insufficiently executed.

"Second, France should have taken sufficient measures before-hand to prevent violations of neutrality. Instead of securing the observance of neutrality after the fact, France has been content to wait until the violation had occurred.

"Third, in default of sufficient surveillance, Vice Admiral Rojestvensky has been greatly facilitated in the accomplishment of his mission and in gaining access to Chinese waters. Consequently, it was for the ends of warfare that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky utilized on successive occasions French waters both for anchoring and re-victualing and in awaiting the arrival of reinforcements.

The foregoing is said to be substantially Japan's position both as to the past and as the basis of any further claims arising from the alleged breaches of neutrality.

COMMERCIAL CLUB VOTES THANKS AND SNUBS APOSTLE GEORGE H. SMITH

(Special to The Herald.)
Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—At a meeting of the Commercial club held at the Angeles tonight a committee was appointed to draft resolutions of thanks to the Salt Lake Route, the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and all others who had extended courtesies to the club.

Apostle George A. Smith, who is not a member of the club, attended. He made a speech in which he said another body from Salt Lake Route, the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and all others who had extended courtesies to the club.

He referred to Apostles Reed Smoot, John Henry Smith, W. P. Murdock, himself and other church officials with their families. As he finished his remarks there was a loud cry of "No," and this sentiment was echoed. It was explained to Mr. Smith, privately,

PRESIDENT HAS A STRENUOUS TIME DURING HIS STAY IN THE WINDY CITY

Chicago, May 10.—President Roosevelt was in Chicago for twelve and one-half hours today, and of that time eleven and one-half hours were given to the public. From 12:30 to 2 o'clock was allotted to him on the official programme for rest, but during this time he gave an audience to a committee of labor leaders, who presented to him a protest against the use of federal troops in the coalminers' strike.

From his arrival until his departure the programme outlined for his entertainment was carried through without delay.

MAIL SERVICE SOON TO BEGIN

Salt Lake Route Has Accepted Offer of the Government.

TALK WITH W. A. CLARK

SALT LAKE TO LOS ANGELES IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

(Special to The Herald.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 10.—Through mail service between Salt Lake and Los Angeles over the Salt Lake Route will begin just as soon as the postoffice department finishes the formalities necessary to carrying out the contracts.

The Salt Lake Route has accepted the offer of the postoffice department for mail service from this city over the line," said President W. A. Clark today.

"We have taken this at about a third what the department pays us for hauling the mail from Salt Lake to California, but rather than obstruct a quick settlement and prompt service I declined to take the offer for a year, when there will be a refiguring and a better price will be paid.

Senator Clark satisfied.

"I am thoroughly satisfied with the work done by the road so far. I find that people here and in Salt Lake are just beginning to learn what the line means.

"The branch to Bullfrog, Rhyolite and Goldfield I think will be undertaken. We have yet to determine the permanency of those camps, though I believe them to be permanent and wonderful gold regions. Still with such an investment in the railroad we must be thoroughly satisfied on that point before we build the road.

Nine Pullman Trains.

"Our limited through service to Chicago will commence probably in September. This will require an investment in nine Pullman trains. These trains will be the most perfect that money and brains can produce. I feel justified in saying that they will equal anything now operated in comfort and luxury.

Trip in Twenty-four Hours.

"By that time we will have the roadbed in such perfect condition that we will cut the running time between this city and Salt Lake to twenty-four hours.

"Some of our people think that twenty-six hours will be quick enough, but I am decided on twenty-four hours. That will be a continuous running time of thirty-two miles an hour or thereabouts, which we should readily make. I have given a great portion of my time to this work and will continue to do so. I may go to Europe in July for a brief trip, but I will be back here soon."

BURYING THE DEAD.

Marquette, Kan., May 10.—Business has been suspended here pending the burial of the tornado's victims. The funerals began today and will continue for the next two or three days. There have been no further deaths. Lou Switzer, the engine watchman whose three grown daughters were killed in the tornado, has disappeared, and his friends fear that he has lost his mind.

that the meeting was of the Commercial club alone; that he should not attempt to fuse it with a priesthood meeting; and that if the church officials, the Real Estate association or the city council had thanks to express they should do so separately. Mr. Smith did not press his suggestion.

The committee to draft the resolutions for the Commercial club consists of President Heber M. Wells, Manager P. L. Harris, J. E. Cairne, W. Houston, Dr. E. S. Wright and Senator Simon Bamberger.

The invitation to San Francisco was declined, as was another to Long Beach. Harris, Cairne and Houston, however, were present intended to leave for home tomorrow night, five Friday and thirteen Saturday.

After the meeting the Salt Lakeers were entertained at the Jonathan Club.

LABOR'S APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT

have been in charge. They have made a mistake in appeal to force. When that weapon is tried they are weak and you are strong. They have their money, but they have no power. You are stronger than they. You have your right arm and your torches and by them we will blot out this accursed outrage.

"As God lives and I live, by the living Jehovah! if one man driven from his employment by these men I will lead you to make Lowell what was twenty-five years ago—a sheep pasture and a fishing place; and I will commence by applying the torch to my own house. Let them come on. As we are not the aggressors, we seek not this awful contest!"

Not Scared at Soldiers.

"Peace rests not upon the militia or the army, but upon the patience and long-suffering of the toiling masses. The army, so far as it has any effect, is not to be feared, but to be despised. To terrorize, but to make the people meditate. They wonder what all this 'bluffing' is for. Can a few soldiers scare the men who make armies and who compose the flower of American manhood? Are we averse that we cringe at the mention of troops?"

"If the laboring men are willing, the decision of an arbitrator without cannon or club will command the obedience of every soldier affected."

"Even if we are right and the arbitrator decides against us, still we will be left to our own devices."

"Then, if the decision of the man, unarmed and alone, can exercise this vast power, what is the use of the sacrifice of lives, calling out armies and making an opera bouffe of government?"

"It is evident that a blunder has been made somewhere, somehow. Let us ascertain its source."

"Is it just or is it necessary to bring the United States army into Chicago in an effort to smother the cry of the toiler for arbitration? Is it right or expedient to attempt to stifle the demand for arbitration by the use of force by court procedure? Is the purpose of the army to prevent the carrying out of written contracts that are open to all who care to read them? Can you, our honored president, afford to use the forces under your control to stifle the cry of the toiler for arbitration?"

"Every laboring man knows these facts. What will be the results upon the citizenship of this country if, when American citizens ask for court procedure and order, they are met by the bullet and the jail? Is it not evident to the facts in the case? We submit that labor is an essential of national life. And the sympathy and co-operation of the laborers in this work is as essential as is the sympathy and co-operation of citizenship. Unity is necessary for development and progress. Unhappiness can no more be destroyed in industrial life than can patriotism in political life. He is short-sighted who sees that the cause of one is the cause of all, and that the destruction of one without protest is sooner or later the destruction of all."

"The revolutionists well understood that a law directed at Massachusetts was in effect a law against South Carolina. Franklin's words are ringing in our ears: 'If we don't hang together we will hang separately' has become a truism."

"Still that far-sightedness that was praised in Massachusetts is condemned in Chicago? Or shall that principle of action that was praised yesterday be condemned today? The thousands of unions springing up as the trees of the forest, answer no."

Unionism Come to Stay.

"Unionism has come to stay. It is merely the systematization of an inherent law of human action. It is here, here better to recognize this law and deal with it as such and make use of the high trial of manhood of which it is expression than to commit the folly of trying to crush it out, as George the Third tried to crush out the spirit of unity and independence in the colonies. Let us not awake to this fact after it is forever too late."

"We therefore trust that you will allow a presentation of the facts of the case to you before you permit any abuse of the federal power by complying with the request of the notorious law-breakers of the land—the coal-suppliers for government privileges. All that we are asking is that our voice be heard."

"Respectfully submitted by a committee appointed by the Chicago Federation of Labor to request a hearing before any action be taken by the federal president relating to the Chicago strike situation."

W. P. Shea, president International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

"Charles Dold, president Chicago Federation of Labor."

Joseph O'Neill, vice president Chicago Federation of Labor.

New York, May 10.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced 3 cents a hundred pounds today.

CHEAPER COAL FOR SALT LAKE

Gigantic Scheme to Bring Wealth of Carbon County to the City.

WILL SAVE MANY MILLIONS

PRICES OF FUEL TO BE CUT IN TWO FOR CONSUMERS.

SHOULD coal be delivered in Salt Lake for $2.50 a ton, less than one-half the prevailing prices, it would seem revolutionary. Such a thing, however, is not only possible, but it is probable. The reduction is likely to go even farther to the extent that before many months, not years, the fuel that warms the family hearthstone in Salt Lake can be procured for as small a sum as $2 a ton.

The importance that attaches to such a condition can best be realized when it is remembered that next to the three prime features of life—shelter, food and raiment—fuel is a close fourth. It embodies heat, light and transportation, the last of which is the greatest agent in this fast-going age.

Utah has been fittingly referred to as the Pennsylvania of the west.

On Rich and Poor Alike.

Carry the simile to the limit and Salt Lake will be placed at the doorway of the greatest future in the world. The tax exacted for fuel falls alike on the millionaire and the pauper, and all intermediate grades of humanity. The barriers between the rich and the poor of the Utah coal mines from the consumer cannot much longer endure. From Pittsburgh, Pa., to the Connelville coal region, which has made that metropolis of industry, is scarcely a greater distance than that which separates Castle Gate from Salt Lake, and the country the mines and the city are considered as one. Here the mines and the city are reckoned as far apart.

In recent years brains and energy have been exercised in this field to the fullest extent. Titles have been perfected to the ownership of wealth, and just now the question of transportation is being solved.

Interests, the importance of which are not generally known, have been awakened, and the advocates of Utah's greatness are now ready to score a victory. A radius of 100 miles brings within its reach the richness of the Utah coal mines to Salt Lake.

How Work Will Be Done.

The story is this: An independent railroad line, with steam or electricity as the propelling force, as seems best to the promoters, is to be built to connect the coal fields of Carbon and adjacent counties with Salt Lake.

A quarter of a million tons of coal are now being brought annually to Salt Lake and its environs, including the smelters. The magnitude of these operations are such that they cannot be designated. They are, in fact, the problems of the day.

Big Thing to Follow.

The coal fields of eastern central Utah made the Rio Grande Western railroad and promoters. Present results are only the harbinger of what is to follow. Plans are now being formulated for bringing together the coal and the consumers of that commodity that will do more for Utah than all former efforts combined. The promoters demand publicity, but such publicity will insure a confidence that cannot be overcome.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

Justice McLean Will Not Interfere in Equitable Matter.

New York, May 10.—Justice McLean, in the New York state supreme court today refused to restrain the action of the Philadelphia, a policy-holder in the Equitable Life Assurance society, for an injunction restraining that society and the New York state superintendent of insurance from proceeding further with respect to the proposed amended charter of the Equitable which was sent to the superintendent of insurance for his approval.

The amended charter provides for the mutualization of the society.

Judge McLean said he denied the application of the laborers in their life, that any amended declaration of charter required to be filed or approved by the state superintendent of insurance, and that he would not interfere with the exercise of the duty of these officials by injunction.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over forty years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women.

Every woman who writes to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman need resort to them, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment cures in the privacy of your home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of bad cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health.

Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.—take his advice and be well.
